SYNOPSIS

When inspiration (or a new year) arrives, we create goals and resolutions we can't wait to accomplish. But we often abandon our efforts because we feel overwhelmed by the size of the goal. This video is a reminder that any progress is good and that the hardest journeys are fulfilled by taking one small step at a time.

DISCUSSION QUESTIONS

- What goals have you set for yourself?
- Have you abandoned an important goal because it's too hard or you're overwhelmed?
- What steps can you take to get back on track or start anew?
